JULY WALK - Mike Lock

17 walkers set out from The Bell in Marston Moretaine on a warm but somewhat overcast morning. We passed close to St Mary's Church and across fields towards Marston Vale Country Park. We entered the Park and walked towards Millbrook Station on the Bedford to Bletchley railway. On nearing the station we then walked along the edge of the Country Park close to the railway, passing alongside one of the large lakes towards Stewartby Station where we turned to follow the edge of Stewartby lake, which is used for various water sports, (but not when we were there). Following the lakeside path we eventually arrived near to the Forest Centre and turned towards Marston. At this point a fairly heavy shower interrupted our walk and coats were donned and attempts were made to shelter. Luckily the shower only lasted a few minutes and we soon began to dry off. On arrival back at Marston we entered the interesting St Mary's Church which has parts which date from the 14th and 15th century and stained glass windows from the 19th century William Morris company in the style of Edward Burne-Jones. After this brief interlude, we returned to the pub for a well deserved lunch.
