JUNE WALK - Dave Thomas

On leaving the Bell Inn at Woburn the nine of us walked along the High Street to the park entrance where we entered and picked up the yellow walking posts. We followed these across the "lawn" with the Abbey on our left, where we came across a herd of deer who found us rather interesting. We joined one of the estate roads which took us to a gate in a wall and a path through a wooded area. On leaving the wood we passed a plantation of bamboo, then turned left up a hill through a conifer wood. We then crossed a field down the side of the Abbey, past the lakes, the "lawns", back down to the High Street and on to the Pub. As the walk was 6.38 miles (sorry about that!) the beer and meal was welcome.
